

Taos Industries Part of Winning Team for the US Army's Logistics Civil Augmentation (LOGCAP) IV Contract

Huntsville, Alabama - April 22, 2008 - Taos Industries, Inc., a subsidiary of Agility Defense & Government Services, teamed with DynCorp International and CH2M Hill has been selected by The U.S. Army Sustainment Command to provide logistics support to the U.S. Army under the Logistics Civil Augmentation Program (LOGCAP) IV contract. The LOGCAP IV program provides global, multi-functional contingency logistics support to the U.S. Army and other U.S. Government agencies as required. The LOGCAP IV contract has a term of up to 10 years and a potential annual value of $5 billion in gross revenue.

Taos Industries with the support of the global logistics capabilities of Agility will provide the U.S. Army with supply chain and logistics support including but are not limited to transportation, freight management and warehousing services, catering and food service solutions, in addition to bulk fuels and liquid distribution.

About Taos Industries

Taos is in the business of providing global logistics services, commercial and military spare parts and systems from around the world to US Federal and State government as well as for foreign government customers. Taos is currently providing base operations support for the United States Air Force in Spain and Defense Reutilization services for the Defense Logistics Agency in Kuwait, Iraq and Afghanistan. Taos also specializes in the procurement of non-standard material including equipment for security forces, foreign military systems, and hard to find components. Taos is your Total Acquisition One Source Leader. More information about Taos may be found at www.taos-inc.com.

###